

HARRY STRONG MAY RECOVER

Doctors Think His Wounds Will Not Prove Fatal.

ROMNEY HAS LITTLE TO SAY

SALOON MEN TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST KEEPERS OF DIVES.

HARRY STRONG, the victim of Miles Romney's bullets in the Oasis saloon shooting scene Sunday, was considerably improved in condition yesterday and the physicians state that there is now little doubt of his ultimate recovery. While Strong is lying at the hospital suffering from his injuries, Romney is being held in a cell of the county jail awaiting the final outcome of Strong's wounds. In case he recovers, a charge of assault with intent to commit murder will be filed against Romney. The county authorities, however, stated that they would wait for several days before filing any complaint, to be sure of the condition of the wounded man.

Dr. Benedict, who is attending Strong, stated yesterday that all bleeding had stopped and he felt pretty certain that no vital parts in the neck had been seriously injured by the bullet. He felt certain that, if no complication developed, the patient would pull through all right.

Romney, the aggressor in the fracas of Sunday, when seen in his cell yesterday, had little to say about the case. He said that he was not a party to the shooting, but he admitted that he had been in the saloon at the time. He said that he was not a party to the shooting, but he admitted that he had been in the saloon at the time. He said that he was not a party to the shooting, but he admitted that he had been in the saloon at the time.

Romney has engaged Attorney James Hamilton to defend him in any action that may be brought, and he will employ another attorney to assist in the case. Yesterday afternoon Romney's wife and brother, Joe Romney, called to see him. Mrs. Romney was deeply affected by the shooting.

War on Dive Keepers.

While the authorities are awaiting the outcome of Strong's condition before filing a complaint against Romney, there is a movement being put on foot to close the numerous saloons in the city which are said to be entitled to have licenses. Mayor Thompson also announces his intention of having the chief of police enforce the regulations in regard to Sunday opening of saloons. It is the matter of indorsing their applications for licenses. The saloonkeepers' association of the city announces its intention of going after saloons of bad repute with relentless energy and threatening the city to refuse to grant licenses to places of that class.

The shooting resulting from a saloon being open on Sunday caused the Sunday closing question to be the general topic of conversation yesterday, and the general expression of opinion was that something ought to be done, and that the city should close saloons on Sunday. A police sergeant, who was on duty Sunday afternoon at the time of the shooting, asserted yesterday that there was only one saloon in the city open during the day, and the proprietor of the place was said to be his officers. When reminded that the shooting in the Oasis saloon was an evidence of that fact, he replied that it was not open for business, but that only the proprietors were in there.

Will Obey Orders.

The police officers, when seen last night, stated that they had received no instructions yet, but that whatever the orders were, they would endeavor to see that they were carried out to the letter. A police sergeant, who was on duty Sunday afternoon at the time of the shooting, asserted yesterday that there was only one saloon in the city open during the day, and the proprietor of the place was said to be his officers. When reminded that the shooting in the Oasis saloon was an evidence of that fact, he replied that it was not open for business, but that only the proprietors were in there.

May Close Up Fort.

An officer of the association asserted that to 90 per cent of the saloons in the city were not saloons at all, but beer joints, owned and operated by the brewers, and that the majority of them were a disgrace even to the name of saloon. The association has proposed to close up at least forty of them in the city. They also, he stated, proposed to petition the county commissioners to grant no licenses to road houses and like resorts anywhere near the city.

The association has elected a board of directors and it is their purpose, as stated by this officer, to petition the city council to grant no licenses to any saloon that has a record of being investigated by the board of directors. Strong's New York Record.

New York, Sept. 15.—Thomas Van Amringe, brother-in-law of Dr. Payne, said tonight that about thirty-two years ago Dr. Payne adopted a five-months-old boy from one of the missions in this city. He thought that this child might be Harry Strong, who was shot in Salt Lake, and added that Dr. Payne had intended that his adopted son should become a physician, and he had been educated with this idea in view. The boy did not justify the doctor's hopes, and left this city. Ten years ago they heard that Strong was a cowboy in the west.

To accommodate vocal students who have recently returned to the city, Miss Edna C. Cohn will be in her studio Saturday mornings, from 9 until 12, to try voices and register those who desire hours. 665 East South Temple street.

PLUCKY WOMAN RUNS A "BLUFF" ON A BOLD BURGLAR AND FRIGHTENS HIM AWAY

The quick wit and pluck of a woman prevented the house of J. A. Williams, at 323 East Second South street, from being robbed Saturday night, and resulted in the capture of a man alleged to be the burglar. The plucky woman whose clever ruse frightened the burglar away, leaving his army coat as an easy identification card, was Mrs. Williams. The owner of the coat and the alleged burglar is Private E. E. Fowler of company A, Twelfth infantry, at Fort Douglas.

Mrs. Williams and her young son were sleeping Saturday night when she was awakened and discovered some one standing at the foot of her bed. Thinking it was her husband, who had been out for the evening, she addressed him as "Is that you, papa?"

"No, that is father," replied the man, and Mrs. Williams realized that a burglar was in the house. In a calm voice she said to her son:

GOES TO NEVADA.

Confessed Safe Blower Will Answer for His Crime at Reno.

Constable R. C. Leeper of Reno, Nev., arrived here Sunday night for the purpose of taking Charles H. Williams, a safe blower, back to Nevada. Williams, who confessed to the authorities here to having blown open the safe of a Reno butcher shop on May 20, took off yesterday that he committed the crime, and was turned over to Mr. Leeper.

Constable Leeper, who is an old-timer in the service, has had many thrilling experiences in performing his duty. In taking a negro murderer, he was shot twice, but succeeded in killing the negro. William Scott, the negro, who had the blood of three men on his hands, turned on the constable when he approached to arrest him, and fired twice. The first shot passing through Leeper's hand as he tried to grab the gun, and the second shot striking him in the abdomen.

As Leeper fell to the ground, his son ran to his assistance, and held in the arms of his boy, the nerve officer raised his gun and killed the negro before he could get away. Mr. Leeper is a Republican candidate for sheriff, and feels confident of election.

BOYS ARE ARRESTED

Police Think They Have Trio of Bicycle Thieves.

In the capture of a trio of youngsters last night, the police believe they have caught the bicycle thieves who have been so active during the past few days. The trio of boys, who were arrested at noon yesterday, were waiting for the return of the lads. He lay in the weeds and bushes bordering the canal at Eighth and Ninth South streets, and was seen by the police when the three boys made their appearance.

In their cache in the weeds the boys had their wheels, some intact and others in pieces. The police believe they have been doing a profitable business in taking the wheels apart and reconstructing them, putting the wheels from one bicycle on the frame of another and selling them. The boys had also in their possession badges, cigars and other goods stolen from Liberty park stands, which they admitted to having stolen on Sunday afternoon. The police approached upon the matter of having something done in this direction, stated that he proposed to do so at once.

GIRL WHO SAID SHE WAS AT ECKSTEIN'S ROAD HOUSE ON FATAL NIGHT

IS ONLY 15 YEARS OLD

SECKING DEVELOPMENTS ARE BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

THE SHADOW of a strange woman, which usually appears in murder mysteries, has loomed up in connection with the State street Road House tragedy, which occurred on the 4th of this month, and in which J. A. Jennings was shot to death by Barney Eckstein, proprietor of the place.

The woman, a rather girl, for she is only 15 years of age, was in the bar room at the time of the fatal affair and was a witness to the crime, which has not yet been completely unraveled by the officers. In order to shield the girl from the notoriety and disgrace of the tragedy, to preserve the deepest secrecy concerning her identity, she is known to at least one deputy sheriff, to a police sergeant, Chairman Anderson of the board of county commissioners and to one or two other officials, besides the witnesses to the shooting. So carefully did the witnesses to the affair which ended in the death of Jennings, and the presence of the mysterious girl that it was only last Thursday that the officers gained their first clue.
